Organization and Mission — Field

CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN SUPPORT GROUP (CMSG)

This regulation gives the mission, organization, and responsibilities of the Cheyenne Mountain Support Group. It applies to the Cheyenne Mountain Complex (CMC), and implements AFR 23-51.

1. Mission. Manages the CMC, gives administrative and logistical support, and exercises Article 15 authority over personnel shown in paragraph 4d.

2. Organization. The CMSG is an Air Force controlled unit assigned to 3d Space Support Wing with command authority for the 1010th Civil Engineering Squadron, 1010th Special Security Squadron, and Headquarters Squadron Section.

3. Responsibilities. The Commander:

- a. Organizes and trains personnel.
- b. Manages the budget, administration, civil engineering, security, and Headquarters Squadron Section activities.
- c. Is designated the Base Commander for the Cheyenne Mountain Complex. Performs duties directed by United States statute or Air Force directives normally performed by a base commander.

4. Relationships to Other Units or Agencies:

- a. The Commander may communicate with other agencies about administrative and logistical support.
- b. The CMSG administration function performs reproduction, distribution, administrative staff assistance visits to subordinate units, special orders responsibilities for CMC, and records management for CMSG only per AFR 12-1, as supplemented. All other functions are performed by HQ Air Force Space Command Directorate of Administration or 1003d Space Support Group, Base Administration.
- c. The 3d Space Support Wing safety function performs CMC's base-level safety inspections and functional evaluations.
- d. HQ Air Force Space Command, Space Combat Operations Staff, and System Integration Office are attached to the Headquarters Squadron Section for unit administrative support (all United States Air Force military personnel) and UCMJ authority (enlisted personnel only).
